Summer Course on Refugee Issues

Toronto • July 4–16, 1993

The Centre for Refugee Studies will inaugurate a summer course in July 1993 to provide fresh insights to people from several social sectors who are already familiar with some aspect of refugee issues.

The course offers an overview of a range of refugee issues, an in-depth examination of current issues lead by leading figures, and an opportunity to explore current developments:

Week 1: Module 1 – Comprehensive Overview:

- Social Demography of Refugee Movements
- History of Nation-States and Refugees
- Role of the UNHCR and International Organizations
- Law and Refugee Status

Week 2: Module 2/ Module 3 – Special Units

- Refugee Protection and International Law or
- Settlement, Assistance and Solutions

Participants are encouraged to take the full two-week program, which will be taught at the graduate level.

A limited number of applications will be accepted up to May 15, 1993 and interested candidates are strongly advised to contact the course coordinator immediately by fax or telephone. The full course fee is Can. $800. Grants are now available to reduce course fees for nongovernmental applicants. They will pay no more than $500. Additional grants may be made on request. Payment of the course fees must be made before June 15, 1993. Accommodation and meals are additional, but participants may make their own arrangements.
