<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CRS/YLP PUBLICATIONS</th>
<th>REPORTS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>BOOKS</td>
<td>Paths to Equity: Cultural, Linguistic, and Racial Diversity in Canadian Early Childhood Education&lt;br&gt;Judith Bernhard, Marie Louise Lefebvre et al. (1995) $18.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Volume One: Context, Policy and Implementation $24.95</td>
<td>Occasional Papers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Volume Two: Settlement and Impact $24.95</td>
<td>Fading Hopes: Struggles for Survival Among Cambodians Repatriated from Thai Refugee Camps&lt;br&gt;Janet McLellan (1996) $13.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Refugee Policy: Canada and the United States Edited by Howard Adelman (1991) $20.95</td>
<td>Please send your orders to:&lt;br&gt;Centre for Refugee Studies&lt;br&gt;York University&lt;br&gt;North York ON M3J 1P</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soviet-Jewish Emigration and Resettlement in the 1990s Edited by Tanya Basok and Robert J. Brym (1991) $4.99</td>
<td>Available from:&lt;br&gt;Centre for Refugee Studies&lt;br&gt;Tel.: (416) 736–5843&lt;br&gt;Fax: (416) 736–5837&lt;br&gt;Email: refuge@yorku.ca</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Legitimate and Illegitimate Discrimination: New Issues in Migration

Edited by Howard Adelman
287 pp., indexed. $22.95

Freedom of movement: If the members of a state are forced to flee, the legitimacy of that government is questionable. On the other hand, if members cannot or must leave, again the government is not democratically legitimate.

Immigration control: While limiting access and determining who may or may not become members of a sovereign state remains a legitimate prerogative of the state, the criteria, rules and processes for doing so must be compatible with its character as a democratic state.

Contributors:
Rainer Bauböck, Howard Adelman, Gaim Kibreab, A. Essuman-Johnson, Grant M. Farr, Lawrence Lam, Oscar Schiappa-Pietra, Tomas Hammar, Frédéric Tiberghien (in French), Lois Foster, and Arthur C. Helton.

Available from:
Centre for Refugee Studies
Tel.: (416) 736–5843
Fax: (416) 736–5837
Email: refuge@yorku.ca
Recent Reports

- Somali Refugees in Toronto: A Profile
  By Edward Opoku-Dapaah
  This is the first comprehensive study of Somali refugees in Toronto. It examines the social, residential, and linguistic characteristics of Somalis, their participation in the local economy, and the activity of Somali community organizations. The report also contains valuable suggestions and recommendations concerning suitable and more efficient service delivery to this community.

- Cambodian Refugees in Ontario: An Evaluation of Resettlement and Adaptation
  By Janet McLellan
  This major study of Cambodian refugees in Ontario examines the effects of various forms of sponsorship on Cambodian resettlement. It also focuses and the linguistic, economic, educational, training and social dimensions of the whole process of adaptation. The delivery of services by governmental and NGO agencies as well as the effects of past traumatic experiences of genocide and mass starvation on Cambodian refugees are fully discussed.

- Refugee Families and Children: A Directory for Service Providers in Metro Toronto
  Compiled by John Morris and Lydia Sawicki
  This directory is designed for service providers who work with refugee families and children in Metro Toronto. Its aim is to improve service provision through networking and the sharing of training opportunities.

Back Issues of Refuge

The following is a list of general and thematic issues of Refuge—Canada's periodical on refugees.

Single copy: Vol 12, 13 &14–$6.50; Vol 15–$10. 10 percent discount on 3–9 issues (copies); 20 percent discount on 10 issues (copies) or more. Special discounts are available for students and exclusively volunteer-run NGOs. P. O. accepted.

Please send your orders to:

Centre for Refugee Studies, York University
Suite 333, York Lanes, 4700 Keele Street
North York, Ontario, M3J 1P3, Canada
Fax: (416) 736–5837 • Email: refuge@yorku.ca
CALL FOR PAPERS

PSYCHOSOCIAL EFFECTS OF
DISPLACEMENT AND TRAUMA ON REFUGEES

The Centre for Refugee Studies will soon publish a special issue of Refuge on "Psychosocial Effects of Displacement and Trauma on Refugees." The issue will address topics such as:

- Psychological stressors which affect refugees
- Posttraumatic Stress Disorder and implications for resettlement, cultural/social adjustment and family relations
- Depression and anxiety resulting from fallen status, problems with economic adjustment, political instability and lack of personal security
- Access to appropriate psychiatric care
- Community support and mental health care

Contributions with 100-word abstracts are invited. They must be received not later than June 24, 1997.

Papers should be typed, double-spaced, and referenced in proper academic form. They should not exceed 16 pages or about 4000 words. Short papers of about 900 words are also welcomed. Word-processed submissions may be sent on disc or by email.

Les rédacteurs acceptent aussi des articles en français. Le style doit confronner aux normes exigés pour les articles rédigés en anglais.

Deadline: July 31, 1997.

For further details, please contact:

Ogenga Otunnu or Sylvia Child
Guest Editors, Refuge Special Issue
Centre for Refugee Studies, York University
Suite 322, York Lanes, 4700 Keele Street
North York, Ontario, M3J 1P3, Canada
Fax: (416) 736–5837 • Tel.: (416) 736–5843
Email: refuge@yorku.ca
Refugee and Immigrant Women: An International Perspective

The Centre for Refugee Studies will publish a special issue of Refuge on "Refugee and Immigrant Women: An International Perspective."

This special issue of Refuge is intended to provide a space for the voices of immigrant and refugee women from diverse cultural and geographical contexts to be heard. Researchers and practitioners from academic circles and grassroot organizations working on issues involving refugee and immigrant women are urged to submit papers which will illuminate refugee and immigrant women's experiences. Papers will address theoretical frameworks, empirical research, and policy issues with a focus on the social, economic, legal and political consequences for refugee and immigrant women.

Contributions with abstracts are invited. They must be received not later than August 31, 1997.

Papers should be typed, double-spaced, and referenced in proper academic form. They should not exceed 16 pages or about 4000 words. Short papers of about 900 words are also welcomed. Word-processed submissions may be sent on disc or by email.

Les rédacteurs acceptent aussi des articles en français. Le style doit conformer aux normes exigés pour les articles rédigés en anglais.

For further details, please contact:

Guida Man
Guest Editor, Refuge Special Issue
Centre for Refugee Studies, York University
Suite 322, York Lanes, 4700 Keele Street
North York, Ontario, M3J 1P3, Canada
Fax: (416) 736–5837 • Tel.: (416) 736–5663 ext. 20572
Email: gman@yorku.ca